Description

Purpose or significance of data

☐ Do not harvest. All data is small, unstructured, and on a page crawlable by the Internet Archive.

☑ Data is accessible in structured file(s) that can be directly downloaded.

☐ Data is accessible over FTP.

☑ Data is accessible using a documented public API.

☑ Data is only accessible using search queries in a web form.

Recommended approach to harvesting data

DSIRE makes archives of their data available here: http://www.dsireusa.org/resources/database-archives/
They also make publications available here: http://www.dsireusa.org/resources/presentations-and-publications/
And they produce maps available here: http://www.dsireusa.org/resources/detailed-summary-maps/
I recommend watching those pages and downloading new files as they are posted.

Harvest method used

wget + downloaded the database archive files manually

Notes from Harvest

I grouped the resources by the page they appear on: "database-archives", "presentations-and-publications", "detailed-summary-maps". Everything seemed to have fairly descriptive file names, but more context about the data could definitely be added. Also, some of these resources may be updated in the future.

User certified that to the best of their knowledge this is a well-checked bag that will survive out of context of the site it was harvested from.
